

Gio Ponti Glass Dodecahedron

Gio Ponti
ca 1958
blown glass
Italian

Considered the godfather of Italy's post-war renaissance, Gio Ponti (1891-1979), helped spread the vision of la dolce vita around the world with his masterful work in design, architecture, art and publishing. When his sublime 1958 Alitalia offices on Fifth Ave closed doors in the mid-nineties, the contents went to auction. Our collection from that auction includes many blown glass dodecahedrons that were designed specifically for the space.
